

Portable Hands-on Interactive Learning

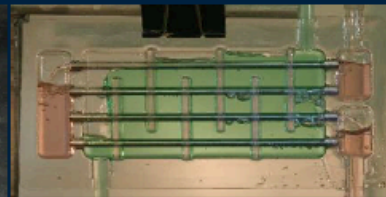

Collaborative Research: Enhancing Hands-on Interactive Learning in Process Technology Programs with New Low-Cost Miniature Industrial Equipment

LOW COST MANUFACTURING

EDUCTOR

HEAT EXCHANGER

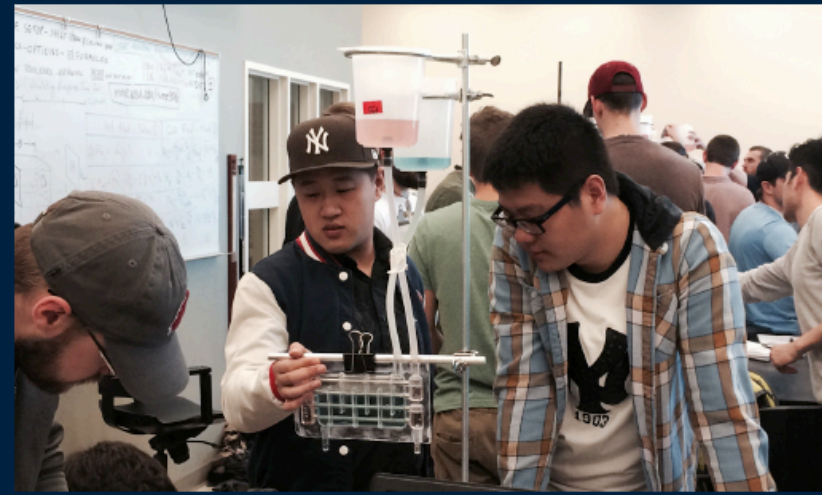

PRESSURE DROP

MOBILE

DEEPER LEARNING WITH WORKING MODELS

10. Due to the use of hand held plastic model exercises I'm certain I could master the related skills being taught in this class.

1 2 3 4 5 6 7
Strongly Disagree Strongly Agree

ASSESSMENT - RESEARCH

Kenai Peninsula College
UNIVERSITY of ALASKA ANCHORAGE

Co PIs -- Jeffrey Laube¹, Paul Golter³, Bernard Van Wie² -- Funded by grants from the National Science Foundation ATE: 1601423 & 1601404

Poster Co-Authors: Thomas Jacroux², Jeffrey Laube¹, Bernard Van Wie², Paul Golter³, Connor Appel², Jamesia Rice²

Acknowledgements: 3D Printing / Vacuum Forming & Manufacturing Methods: Prof. Robert Richards & Fanhe Meng, School of Mechanical and Materials Engineering, WSU; Gary Held, Miles Pepper, Eric Barrow, Voiland College Machine Shop, WSU

¹Process Technology, Kenai Peninsula College; ²Voiland School of Chemical and Bioengineering, Washington State University; ³Ohio University, Athens, OH